PORN STORM

BY GREGORY GARRY

Timothy Greenfield Sanders gets his lens all fogged up in a new book, XXX, which is accompanied by an HBO documentary and a show at New York's Mary Boone gallery. Diptychs of clothed and unclothed adult film stars like Jenna Jameson, Ron Jeremy, gay icon Lukas Ridgeston, and veteran Sharon Mitchell are on full-frontal display. Photos are sandwiched between biting essays by the likes of Gore Vidal, Karen Finley, and John Waters, as well as naïve bios by the actors themselves. Oddly enough, the performers' awkward fashion statements reveal far more than their fake breasts, exposed labia, and low hangers. "Originally, I wanted to shoot the porn stars only clothed," says Greenfield Sanders. "But they all wanted to take their clothes off."
